

Poetry (2006 Remastered)

T Bone Burnett

Ive been so long searching for you

Through ice and sleet and snow

Now Ive finally found you I will never let you go

Ive been broken into pieces

And frightened like a child

Hiding in the blackness of the darkness of the nightI love you more than dreams, and poetry

More than laughter more than tears, more than mystery

I love you more than rhythm, more than song

I love you more with every breath I drawIn the blackness of the darkness

There are no shadows cast

People are but phantoms and

The hours never pass

But your love is furious

And your love so hot it burns

Love is mysterious

It cuts too deep for wordsI love you more than dreams, and poetry

More than laughter more than tears, more than mystery

I love you more than rhythm, more than song

I love you more with every breath I draw
