

Thought It Was Goodbye

Kim Wilde

Hello, hello, hello again
The strangest feelings touch my heart
It didn't cross my mind we'd meet again
We'd taken roads so far apart, butJust when we thought it was goodbyeHello, hello, hello again
The memories drift out of time
The face I used to kiss a million ways
The love I truly thought was mine
I guess we just forgot to talk about it
And so we took the exit sign, butJust when we thought it was goodbyeJust when we thought it was goodbyeHello, hello, hello my love again
We make it seem like our first time
I want to stay inside your life again
To fall apart just seems a crime
Just when we thought we'd closed the shutters down
And we had nowhere left to start, butJust when we thought it was goodbyeJust when Just when
Just when we thought it was
Just when we thought it was Just when we thought it was goodbye
