what went wrong? How could it take so long? I never thought it could be so wrong this far along Maybe it was the time you crashed my car maybe it was the time i pushed you around or is it just what happens when people grow apart what went wrong? how could it take so long? i have to ask myself its not me we were never meant to be i never thought it could be so wrong this far along i never knew it could take so much to satisfy me to pacify you Maybe it was the way we chose to live or is it just what happens after 18 months maybe it was the things we chose to do without i never knew it could take so much to satisfy me to pacify you you have to ask yourself i never thought it could be so wrong this far along its not me we were never meant to be what went wrong? how could it take so long? no good to wonder why we failed to be itll never take away the things you meant to me what went wrong? what went wrong? what went wrong? what went wrong?
