Through the Day

Brad

Sitting here on a southbound train but ain't nobody left to blame, and you know this, without even trying Giving light to the one you love
You got broken both way over your head but you're seeing it, and that that ain't no lie
Well nobody's gonna tell you how to lean in the wind
And you hold yourself up, to sing it again
When your golden and you just didn't try
Got lost long way coz you didn't know to say that you just want a bit of love today, but you're feeling it
Now that you're gone
I've been bored out of my mind, I've been thinking if this is the way of life, I been thinking, maybe it's time to go
For my friends who have gone by the way, even, even I got nothing left to say
But you know that, you got a child at home
So there's nowhere left to run, yeah, no reason to hide,
Could be bad and deep inside, you're singing it, still singing your song Like an old man should, like a good woman would
If you knew how to do it in nineteen-fifty-two
Trying to get through the day
Trying to get through the day
Tryin to get through the day
Just tryin to get through the day
Well I got in at half past nine and I, I didn't know if was time to give it, give it another chance Walking straight into the sea I could feel the waves crashing over me, and I wonder, should I just swim to the Sun?
Well I'm giving into something and I'm taking it home
And I heard a voice beginning to call
It said come on, you gotta break till it hurts
Yeah you get down see that there's only way to be
If you stand up tall and don't be afraid to be yourself, no matter what they say
No matter what they say
hmmm hmm hmm
Just gettin through the days
Through the days
hmmm hmm hmm
Don't go waiting on something that's never gonna come
Yeah your playing for something that's already been done
Yeah you feel it
You feel it through your days
No matter what they say
No matter what they say

You gotta stand up and get through, get through the day
No matter what they say
No matter what you've heard
You gotta find your own words
Know what to say
To get through the day
Hey, hey, hey hey, you got the words to say

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/