Second Nature

Joy Williams

It's so typical
I'm always amazed
When it some to You
It feels so natural
To be blown away
When I stop and think of
How Your love was etched upon my heart
And how no matter
If I laugh, If I hope
If I dream, You're a part of me

[Chorus]
Wanting You, needing You
Loving You comes to me
It comes like second nature like
Breathing in, breathing out
Something I don't think about
It comes like second nature
Second nature

Like an instinct
That I can't control
I always turn to You
It's a spiritual thing
A thirst in my soul
That makes me run
Into your arms and to the place
Our hearts collide where everything comes clear
And I see, from the start
This is how love was meant to be

[Chorus]

It's so obvious
I was born for this
Born for a love like this
And I know for sure
I've been captured
There is no escaping this

Wanting You, needing You, loving You

[Chorus]
