Polar Lights

Building Temples across my heart
Reading signals, I'm seeing stars
Tell my father I found my pot of gold
Burning pages was all I knew
So welcome redemption been looking for you
I've been living life but I've been living like a fool

Building Temples across the stars
The passing conclusions of the broken hearts
Tell my mama I found me a home
For burning bridges was all I knew
So welcome redemption been looking for you
I've been living life outta boxes and shoes

I had my back up against the wall
Leaning in, leaning in for the fall

But I'm at the end of the rainbow
I'm bleeding colors for you
I'm bleeding colors
Oh whoa oh
You're the sight at the edge of my window
I'm building Temples for you
I'm building Temples for you

And I've got a secret
You can see it in my eyes
But they won't believe me
You're like a ghost in the night

I had my hands strapped to my back and my tongue tied to a ledge they thought I'd break
I had my hands strapped to my back and my tongue tied to a ledge they thought I'd break

I had my back up against the wall
Leaning in for the fall

But I'm at the end of the rainbow
I'm bleeding colors for you
I'm bleeding colors
Oh whoa oh

You're the sight at the edge of my window

I'm building Temples for you

I'm building Temples

You're like the drum beat(sha na na) got me swaying away

You're like the perfect melody(sha na na) gave my soul another break

I had my back up against the wall

Leaning in for the fall

But I'm at the end of the rainbow

I'm bleeding colors for you

I'm bleeding colors

Oh whoa oh

You're the sight at the edge of my window

I'm building Temples for you

I'm building Temples

Oh whoa oh

I'm at the end of the rainbow

I'm bleeding colors for you

I'm bleeding colors

Oh whoa oh

You're the sight at the edge of my window

I'm building Temples for you

I'm building Temples
