Flowers

Evanthia Bilionis

FLOWERS

Don't go puttin' flowers on my gravestone anymore
Cos they don't smell as they did before
Don't go pouring your tears on my gravestone
And as much as it hurts me to say
I can't wipe them all away
How do you feel when you look at yourself in the mirror everyday
Do you hide that guilt away
Or do you walk and look the other way
Don't tell me that you didn't mean it
You said you had to do it and now you have to live with it
So don't ever put flowers on my grave
Cos nothing is the same and I am buried anyway
I knew one day I'd lose you
But never did I think that it would be ever like this Don't go listening to all them voices in your head
Now it's your turn to hurt
As I lay in this dirt
I know that you really loved me
But as you stand above me
I don't need to hear it again
And if I looked at you and I saw your flooded eyes
Would I try to grab you with my hands
And give you one last kiss goodbye
And if the wind would blow the pages right back
I wouldn't be laying here babe
I would be standing where you're at
Don't go bringing flowers to my gravestone
For I can't smell them anymore
And If I did
They just wont smell like they did before
Don't go bringing me flowers to my gravestone
No I don't want them babe
I don't need them anyway
Walk away babe
Lyrics and credited to Evanthia Bilionis 2014

Lyrics Submitted by Evanthia Bilionis

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/