All Style, No Substance

Youth Brigade

the info-mercial home shopping club. the money flows from young and old cash cash cow coming home. all style no substance. the flashy cars expensive clothes a house with 50 rooms. empty lives bitchy vibes the smell of stale perfume. the candidate makes promises on the campaign trail. once they're in it's only sin and mostly they fail. america land of opportunity they'll sell you anything cause nothing here is free. america defined by your tv money greed corruption it feeds cause nothing here is free. casting couches madames houses it doesn't happen here. whores abound in tinsel town for at least 100 years. break the law take a fall not with your connections. your bank account will save your ass everyone's corrupted.
