

Litany of Ra

Aeternus

I am one of you
A vulture I have been
The falcon is my face
You'll see that I am moreI am one of all
All that we see as sacred
They are all in me
All of mans divintiesDeceased I am from the mortal world
Yet I resurrect in the depths below
I am many
My limbs are godsFrom horus of the neverworld
To the weary of the heart
The mistress of the western desert
Nurtures me with the strength I needThe gods have themselves
Transformed into my body
I am entirelya god
No limb of mine is without godI enter as a god
I exit as a god
