

Carnival

Zhaga

They've tried to teach us love, through bad intentions,
This carnival is loud, full of deceptions

We taste the blood and lust, with fascination, sweet fantasies of fame and depravation

If you know... who you are, tell Death: 'not today', then fight back

Don't buy the idols theyâ€™ll shove you
(The carnival is loud)
Don't answer riddles thrown at you
(The carnival is loud)

Deceive them with a smile, just wipe your tears off
The cannibal inside, will bite their souls off

Behind those masks they hide, from judge and jury
With enemies like us, they'll taste the fury
