Fight Back

Squad Five-O

This is a war.We bear the scars of our struggle.A struggle from within our souls.We fight for freedom to serve our God.And after all to stand.We took it on the chin.We won't do that again.This time you've gone too far.This time we fight back.A price was paid to set us free.And make us whole and give us strength to overcome.The evil powers in the world around us.Victory is ours.
