Electric Man

Rival Sons

You were the seven deadly sins
Making sense in your 'screw me' dress
The beautiful ones just slip away
To a mirror where we used to kissWith your disco heartbeat
You're not even human
We're so electric
Do you have no passion?Bring your sunshine to me, oh electric man
Bring your sunshine to me, oh you're so electric man
To meEverything I touch
Just falls to bitsSo trust in me
It brings us close
Electric man
Will save our soulsBring your sunshine to me, oh electric man
Bring your sunshine to me, oh you're so electric man
To meSo I took advice and changed a little
Hope that others like me more
Hope that you would trust me once again
Once again, once again
I am lonely once again
I hope that you would trust me once againBring your sunshine to me, oh electric man
Bring your sunshine to me, oh you're so electric man
To meBring your sunshine to me, oh electric man
Bring your sunshine to me, oh you're so electric man
Bring your sunshine, bring it to me
Bring it to me, bring it to me
Bring it to me, bring it to me
La, la la la, la la la la, la la, yeah yeah yeah yeah
Ooh, the sunshine, bring it to me
