

Something's Changing

Rosie Doonan

Flying in circles overhead
Has it always passed us by
Silently tripping out of sight
With no one to take us back
Finally feeling in our place
Has it always been this way
Now that the fear is hard to trace
I need the love you gave me
When i feel like somethings changing
Now you let it go
And I feel like you have lit the fuse
And I will let it go
And I will leg it go
Head for the border set me down
Just promise you'll be around
Whatever will be will come to pass
However long the road may last
We will rest easy for a while
And I'll never leave your side
Time takes us all it's hard to hide
Were moving on with the times
When i feel like somethings changing
Now you let it go
And I feel like you have lit the fuse
And I will let it go
And I will leg it go
Figured it out alone
But without you I never know
Figured it out alone
But without you i never know
When i feel like somethings changing
Now you let it go
And I feel like you have lit the fuse
And I will let it go
And I will leg it go
When I feel like somethings changing
Now you let it go
And I feel like you have lit the fuse
And I will let it go

And I will leg it go

Lyrics Submitted by Liz rowlands

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>