

Black Crush

Kids in Glass Houses

The hills steepest before
We crash into the fray
Like the waves seduced the bay
We run straight at the din
Oh, to have a bombshells skin
Oh, to never feel a thing
The only heaven I call home
The one where I feel safe alone
The dear and departed
The black crush has started
Tell all my friends Im coming home
Theres bodies everywhere
Although we know its rude to stare
At the bastards frozen there
Across the beach I see
A hooded figure, so serene
Caress your shoulder
Baby, sleep
The only heaven I call home
The one where I feel safe alone
The dear and departed
The black crush has started
Tell all my friends Im coming home
