Something Beautiful

Tori Kelly

Beautiful
You are stronger than you know
Oh, you're something beautifulKnow you're hurting and you feel like all is lost
Heart is burning from the love that's been cut off
But day light comes in and time for you is all I got
And I promise you'll get through this, you can do thisBecause all that you need
Is a little room to breatheBreathe in and let it go, oh
Your tears are not for nothing
Let them fall off
In every tear drop there is something beautiful, oh
You are stronger than you know, oh
Oh you're something beautifulFighting shadows, in a game that you can't win
Losing battles and no wonder your skin
Is just a blessing in disguise
Without darkness, there is no light
Just hold on a little longer, and I promise you'll get through thisBecause all that you need
Is a little room to breatheBreathe in and let it go, oh
Your tears are not for nothing
Let them fall off
In every tear drop there is something beautiful, oh
You are stronger than you know, oh
Oh you're something beautifulCan't feel the love without the pain
The sun wouldn't matter without the rain
You're not required to carry the weight
So let it go, here's my hand to hold
At the of it all, there's a smile for you waiting
So...Breathe in and let it go, oh
Your tears are not for nothing
Let them fall off
In every tear drop there is something beautiful, oh
You are stronger than you know, oh
Oh you're something beautiful(Let it go, let it go)
You're something beautiful
You're something beautiful
You're something beautiful
You're something beautiful
You're something beautiful
You're something beautiful
You're something beautiful

You're something beautiful
You're something beautiful
You're something beautiful
You're something beautiful
You're something beautiful
(You're something beautiful baby, and you better believe that)
You're something beautiful
You're something beautiful
(You deserve it all)
You're something beautiful
You're something beautiful
(Don't let them tell you you're not Just give it all that you got
Cause you are more than enough
You're something beautiful)
