Heroes

Mattybraps

Got no plans for tomorrow
There's enough on my plate
The weight of the world on my shouldersBut with you I feel ok
Wanna run wild in the streets
Wanna feel the youth run through my veinsCause I
Don't always say the right thing
And I
Don't always think how you think
And we're one in the same
Ya, it's okay
Cause nothings ever that easy
Tomorrow maybe I could save the day
Ya, ya, ya, ya
We can't always be the heroes
All this pressure to be someone
I'm me though
We're all lit with a fire
We're all made to be fighters
But we can't always be the heroesPressure to be on your A-game
But you'd rather be in a safe place
Instead of trying to save face
They always expecting a brave face
Real over perfect, any day
You can't please everyone, anyways
Take it from me when I say
That I
Don't always say the right thing
And I
Don't always think how you think
And we're one in the same
Ya it's okay
Cause nothing's ever that easy
Tomorrow maybe I could save the day
Ya, ya, ya, yaWe can't always be the heroes
All this pressure to be someone
I'm me though
We're all lit with a fire
We're all made to be fighters
But we can't always be the heroesWe don't look how you want

We don't move how you do
Cause we're not what you think
You don't even have a clue
Now what we're capable of
What we'll collectively do
We're some artists, we're some innovators
We're changing the rules
And it's a day at a time
Collection of minds
It's a voice in the streets
And it's a sign of times
Go 'head say we cant
Go 'head call us zero
Because he, because she
Because we can't always be theWe can't always be the heroes
All this pressure to be someone
I'm me though
We're all lit with a fire
We're all made to be fighters
But we can't always be the heroes

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/