

Camouflage

Selena Gomez

Dead end streets and boulevards
You threw in the towel, I broke your heart
But there's a first time for everything
Who would've thought you'd feel so cold
And all these memories seem so old
To think you were my everything Remember when we'd talk all night
But time ain't easy on us, our candle died I got so much shit to say
But I can't help feeling like I'm camouflaged
Fortress around my heart
You were mine just yesterday
Now I have no idea who you are
It's like you're camouflaged But it's good to see you here again
I don't wanna say goodbye
But it's about half past ten
And I have to catch my ride Riding alone on the 405 and life's so fragile, it's like I could cry
If that's the last time I see you again
But I'll never tell you just how I felt
You might just not care and it might just not help
What if the feeling's just don't make no sense to you, you Remember when we'd talk all night
Time ain't easy on us, our candle died I got so much shit to say
But I can't help feeling like I'm camouflaged
Fortress around my heart
You were mine just yesterday
Now I have no idea who you are
It's like you're camouflaged But it's good to see you here again
I don't wanna say goodbye
But it's about half past ten
And I have to catch my ride I got so much shit to say
But I can't help feeling like I'm camouflaged
Fortress around my heart
You were mine just yesterday
Now I have no idea who you are
It's like you're camouflaged But it's good to see you here again
I don't wanna say goodbye
But it's about half past ten
And I have to catch my ride

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>