

Preservation of Death

Impaled

Their censure forced the decision
 Their murder forced by incision With furtive defiance I ended their lives
 My allegiance to the scalpel has reshaped mine Stuck with a codgerie of bodies
 My aims have something new to embody Flasks brimming with nutritive concoctions
 To stave off decay and exsiccation (solo: "A 50cc Solution to the Problem" by J. Kocol) In vials suffused with anti-decomposotes
 Concealed organelles, their discovery remote Preservation of...
 A post-mortem view to the nature of
 Death
 Preservation of...
 A looking glass through to the traces of Death With our crimes concealed, we've time to reveal Anatomical dogmas, so far not appealed (solo: "A Cabinet of Curiosities" by J. Kocol)
 (solo: "These Lips are Sealed" by S.C. McGrath) In perfect suspension, this gralloch begs the question Past this mortal coil, can we affect reclamation Preservation of...
 Channels replete through which we aim to cheat
 Death
 Preservation of...
 To our last breath, pursuing life after Death Information I'll procure from subjects matured
 In a gripe's egg of our preserving tinctures
