

I'll Fly Like an Eagle

Marvin Morrow

I'll Fly Like An Eagle

I've watched in amazement as an eagle ascends up towards the heavens riding on the wings
My heart filled with excitement as I looked to the sky
Knowing just like that eagle, someday I'll fly.

Some day I'll fly, like an eagle, leave this old world behind
I'll go to my maker heaven's joy I'll find.
God will wipe away my teardrops, all my pain will be gone.
Some day I'll fly like an eagle over the mountains to my new home.

When my trials and troubles are over and done when all the battles I've fought have been won
Then I will lay down, this old body of flesh, and like an eagle from this world, I'll fly away

Some day I'll fly like an eagle, leave this old world behind
I'll go to my maker, heaven's joy I'll find.
God will wipe away my teardrops, all my pain will be gone.
Some day I'll fly like an eagle, over the mountain to my new home.

Over the mountain to my new home.
