Hold My Head Up

The Midway State

how the hell'd you find me I've been hiding miles away / maybe you don't know it I still think about you every single day why the hell'd you leave me no information nothing for my wallYou tell me how you've grown girl well I can't say that I've grown much at all I've just been trying to hold my head upI've been trying to hold my head up oh I've been trying to keep my prayers up I've been trying to hold my head up.How the hell'd you find me I've been digging trenches everyday trying to protect me because I miss your every little way your blue eyes your big dreams you said I don't aspire to be enough and now you wanna hire me once again to take care of your little heart well I don't know Ive been trying to hold my head up.Nows the time when you'd say anything to get me back nows the time yeah the time when you'd say anything to get us back.
its the time ya you'll say anything to get us back nows the time, yeah you'd say anything to get me back there.
