Someone's Somebody

Dave Barnes

You don't need no intuition
All you need is a beating heart, beating heart
Ain't no math you need to figure
Nothing here you can pick apartDoes it feel good to you, baby?
Does it feel good to you, baby?
'Cause it feels like it should
It's gonna feel so good, babyYou're gonna be someone's somebody
You're gonna be somebody's someone
You're gonna be someone's somebody
You're gonna be somebody's someone
Somebody's someoneThese nights get so lonely
Just the candles and the moon
But as you're waiting for that someone
Someone's out there waiting for you, babyIt will feel so good to you, baby
It will feel so good to you, baby
'Cause if it feels just like it should
It's gonna feel so good, babyYou're gonna be someone's somebody
You're gonna be somebody's someone
You're gonna be someone's somebody
You're gonna be somebody's someoneIt could be winter or summertime
Or the middle of the fall
But nothing will matter then
No, it won't matter at allYou're gonna be somebody's someone
You're gonna be someone's somebody
You're gonna be somebody's someone
Somebody's someoneYou're gonna be someone's somebody
You're gonna be somebody's someone
You're gonna be someone's somebody
You're gonna be somebody's someoneYou're gonna be someone's somebody
You're gonna be somebody's someone

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/