A Rising Tide

Harold Payne

â€œA Rising Tideâ€• by Harold Payne

Right here, right now, we are all connected somehow.
Even a whisper in the dark becomes a prayer
and it reaches out and touches your heart.
A rising tide lifts us all; every drop of water helps to keep the flow.
When you make a ripple in the river of life,
We will all be lifted â€“ lifted by the rising tide.

We all have dreams
of a world where we can live in peace and each act of kindness builds a bridge that leads us to the common ground beyond our differences.

A rising tide lifts us all, every drop of water helps to keep the flow.
When you make a ripple in the river of life, we will all be lifted -- lifted by the rising tide

Iâ€™m holding on to what I know that we can be in a sea of possibilities . . . .

A rising tide lifts us all, every drop of water helps to keep the flow
when you make a ripple in the river of life, we will all be lifted â€“ lifted by the rising tide,
...lifts us all, every drop of water helps to keep the flow.
When you make a ripple in the river of life, we will all be lifted â€“ lifted by the rising tide.

Oh, lifted by the rising tide . . . gonna be lifted . . . lifted by the rising tide.
Make a ripple in the river of life .... lifted . . . lifted by the rising tide.
