Give Me Back My Girl

Fiction Family

I can feel it now I can feel my heart again I thought i lost myself I can feel it caving in You can keep your venom saints Just give me back my girl When the city's dark With her melancholy chords I can feel her hollow skin It's thin as billboards You can win the poison race Just give me back my girl You can have la Just give me back my girl I feel it creeping in Breaking my heart again I don't know who i've been Feels like i'm losing it all You can have los angeles Just give me back my girl Feel like i'll never be good enough Feel like i'll never be cool enough sometimes Oh, i remember that was never the point! And i don't ever want to lose you, love I just want to know what shattered on the inside, yeah Feels like i'm losing her Like we'll never be what we were Ever since the bubble burst Feels like we're in reverse, oh! You can have los angeles Just give me back my girl You can keep your angels Just give me back my girl You shine brighter than the city, love You're shining brighter than the city, love

You shine brighter than the city, love
You shine brighter than the city, love
It feels like i'm losing you
Like i've been torn in two
After all that we've been through
Is there nothing that i could do, oh?
You can have los angeles

You can have los angeles
Just give me back my girl
You can keep your angels
Just give me back my girl
You can have los angeles
Just give me back my girl
You can have the basin
Just give me back my girl
