All We Are

Matt Nathanson

I tasted, tasted love so sweet And all of it was lost on me Bought and sold like property Sugar on my tongueI kept falling over I kept looking backward I went broke believing That the simple should be hardAll we are, we are All we are, we are And every day is a start Of something beautifull wasted, wasted love for you Trading out for something new Well, it's hard to change the way you lose If you think you've never won'Cause all we are, we are All we are, we are And every day is a start Of something beautiful And in the end, the words won't matter 'Cause in the end, nothing stays the same And in the end dreams just scatter And fall like rain'Cause all we, are we are All we are, we are And every day is a start Of something beautiful, something realAll we are, we are All we are, we are And every day is a start Of something beautiful, beautiful
