

Lifeline

Imogen Heap

Freeze frame on me
Mmm, can you read it on my face?
Data mining from old memoriesSunflowers and a smile catching
Mmm, welcoming a heartbeat to the family
Light tie lanterns, wish bound in the nightWho? What? When?
All in one stir of a teaspoon
I'm shaken and gasping for airLifeline, before and after
In an instant of great white gravity
Hold tight 'cause all is against me
Every cell in my body braceAnd keep breathing
Keep breathingGracious future
Mmm, won't you lend a hand to pull me through?
'Cause me and you've got some things we need to see toAdventures in the multi verse
Effervescent candlelit closeness
Plus I feel like I've just got the hang of this living thingWho? What? When?
All in one stir of a teaspoon
I'm shaken and gasping for air, air, air, airI will on one day
And sometime in some place
I've still got some go in me yetLifeline, before and after
In an instant of great white gravity
Hold tight 'cause all is against me
Every cell in my body braceRise high, cling to the laughter
For that moment of broken tragedy
Bright eyed, the world is against me
Every cell in my body braceAnd keep breathing
Keep breathing
Still breathingMy bones stay strong
My days still long
My heart has many heartbeats
And home is where love isLifeline, before and after
In an instant of great white gravity
Hold tight 'cause all is against me
Every cell in my body braceRise high, cling to the laughter
For that moment of broken tragedy
Bright eyed, the world is against me
Every cell in my body braceAnd keep breathing
Keep breathing
Keep breathing
Keep breathing

Keep breathing
Keep
