Standing on the Edge

Feeder

There's a message on my bed
A new engraving in my overloading head
Feel the walls are caving in
As the wire cuts into my butter skinYeah, overload
Love's the antidote we need
Love's the antidote we really needWhen you're all by yourself
Standing on the edge of the world
Take a look at yourself
Don't fall back inI thought I shot my conscience dead
But he's come back again to break my China head
Blown a hole right through my dream
Brought me back to earth in a rocket made for oneYeah, overload
Love's the antidote we need
It's the antidote we really needWhen you're all by yourself
Standing on the edge of the world
Take a look at yourself
Don't fall back in'Cause when you're all by yourself
Standing on the edge of the world
Take a look at yourself
Don't fall back in, don't fall back in
