

Teenage Chemistry

Connie Talbot

I know I don't know which pathway to take,
So leave me be, I'll make my own mistakes.
I know that you are much wiser than I,
But who are you to judge if you don't have a perfect life.
Let me keep falling then I'll come back to you I'm just your average girl caught in an alien world,
Unsure of what will be
But I don't want no VIP
I wake up in the afternoon,
I eat load of rubbish food,
I get bored,
I get annoyed,
Is it me or is it teenage chemistry? I think you sometimes think I'm stuck in reverse
But trust me I'm moving I'm walking round the universe
Meet the people that I meet,
See the places that I see,
I'll make it up
I'll change it up,
This will be the making of me I'll cherish this moment 'cause
I don't know what to do. I'm just your average girl
Caught in an alien world,
Unsure of what will be
But I don't want no VIP.
I wake up in the afternoon,
I eat load of rubbish food,
I get bored,
I get annoyed,
Is it me or is it teenage chemistry? Let's live it up let's turn it up let's stay in bed
With our teenage chemistry...
I don't want this easy life to ever end. I don't want no VIP.
I wake up in the afternoon,
I eat load of rubbish food,
I get bored,
I get annoyed,
Is it just me? I play music way too loud out and about with the wrong crowd
Takes half a day to get ready
I know what's best for me
Watch a load of rubbish shows
My floors full of dirty clothes

I feel adored

I feel ignored

Is it just me or is it teenage chemistry? I don't want no VIP Is it just me or is it teenage chemistry?
