

Ain't That the Way It Always Ends

Tim McGraw

Johnny came home, broken hearted
Said, he lost his girl
He bottled up all the hurt in his heart
Punched a hole in the wall of his worldNow Betty, she was a blonde haired beauty
With an eye for a man, who could spin
She stole his heart in a pickup truck
Then drove off in a Mercedes Benz and he saidOh and she looked so innocent
Talking 'bout being just friends
Oh and it don't make a bit of sense
Ain't that the way that it always endsSharon, she had a long time dream
And only one man in her life
He kept her waiting but she didn't care
'Cause he promised he'd make her his wifeNow Billy, he had a good thing going
But he let it go to his head
He got careless and late one night
She caught them both in her bed and she saidOh and he looked so innocent
Talking 'bout being just friends
Oh and it don't make a bit of sense
Ain't that the way that it always endsOh it always looked so innocent
Talking 'bout being just friends
Oh and it don't make a bit of sense
Ain't that the way that it always endsAin't that the way that it always ends
Ain't that the way it always ends
