

Iâ€™m Partial to Your Abracadabra

Ian Dury & The Blockheads

I'm partial to your abracadabra
I'm raptured by the joy of it all
So stop me where you start
The cockles of his heart
The panties sends it right up the wall Please, please, stop it, it likes it
Tickles it to death either way
These lovely boots exist
To drive it round the twist
The call of nature must be obeyed Glad it's over, but this is worse
Could hardly say it had been coerced
Stop it 'cause it likes it, it's worse I'm partial to your abracadabra
The unforeseen erogenous zones
Stop, it insists
Slap it with your wrists
It likes it when you leave it alone There's been a manifestation
Nature made it answer the call
It simply can't resist
Boots and pants like this
Abracadabra for all Glad that's over, but this is worse
Roll it over, too perverse
Stop it 'cause it likes it, it's worse I'm partial to your abracadabra
I'm partial to your abracadabra
I'm partial to your abracadabra
I'm partial to your abracadabra
I'm partial to your abracadabra
I'm partial to your abracadabra
I'm partial to your abracadabra
I'm partial to your abracadabra

Songwriters

CHAZ JANKEL, IAN ROBINS DURY Published by

Lyrics Â© Warner/Chappell Music, Inc. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>