Distorted Idol

Violet Moss

you seek all day
for a moment of hope

when the light turns off it disorientates your thoughts in those reckless, words you find no challenge

for your safety
i lock the door when i left you

don't stall don't halt
all the words will unfold

on the verge, ascends
a distorted idol

is it ruptured
or cracked
it makes no difference
