

Racing In A

Steve Hackett

When I feel I'm over reacting
And I'm trying too hard
It might be that I need to Get out in the country
My friend There are many ways of seeking my fortune
I don't really have to lose my mind
On the highway (my) thoughts always racing Away to the sun
No one's stopping me
From lying around
There's surely something to it all Away to the sun
No one's stopping me
From lying around
There's surely something to
Taking a friend
I know that I can share
Another day in the warm country air
