

Mountains and Valleys

Petra

Standing high on a mountain, I can see forever
All the parts in the puzzle seem to be together
The sky is clear and the sun shines on me
The Lord is here and I'm feelin' so free
Walking through the valley, darkness falls around me
Walking through the shadows, evil things surround me
I'm not forsaken, the Lord is my light
I know He's making a way in the night
If you've never been in the valley, you'll never know
How high the mountain is above the valley below
When you walk through the valley, you've got to keep your head up
And if you fall or stumble you've got to pick yourself up
The Lord is waiting to hear your heart cry
He'll always give you another try
