

Almost There

Killah Priest

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

First time in rap history
Your mind will be taken to a level
Prepare yourself When I relax with thoughts, then my brain
Hovers New York, my third eye glides with the view like a hawk Defined, my mind is automatic, rhymes are tragic Fount in the attic, lost you in Asia, Minor, find you in amazin' Beams I'm supreme my mindstate is like a dream, stargazer
Scarred from the radar, beyond Gods and bombs and airwaves
And channels, desert rats and camels, reptiles and mammals
Stand wisdom Daniel, and man who is Samuel Ezekiel's gonna overthrow in trees in hills and mountains
Fountains, rivers, lakes, brooks and ponds
Inhabit by rabbit snakes and swans
Energy is solar life barreling beyond the sun controller Over Jehovah through the days of Noah, tremendous speed
I ride the octavus seed, black seed, Sea of Caspianian
Persian Gulf all the way to the Mediterranean
City of Atlantis, skin is gettin' tight as a mantis Styles organic, mechanic seagulls, swings over the eagles
Soars over the cathedral built durin' the medieval Shall remain in the ordained Byzantine Empire Take you higher one stage is a mass of fire, but sting like Nigger your arch rival Constantine, Dark Ages got sparked
Through the stages, 3M7 ages
Constantinople ruled mobile seeking global filled with Motion over the odds of oceans, scan the land, every inch Of the sand, never bring plans, animals woman child and man
Beasts and fish every inch length and width
Come through the abyss, over Egypt
This odyssey, more angles than photography
More exotic pussies erotic like pornography Am I almost there?
Yeah, I'm almost there?
Am I almost there?
Yeah, I'm almost there? Am I almost there? I'm a space cadet from a tape in the cassette, player

By fasting and prayer, I'm passing the ozone layer
I meditate in the mere, top of skyscrapers
Grew through a nature, droppin' blew through a vapor Then there's paper, the wind that take ya, quiet as The breath in your nose appear in the cold from the depths of my soul
Which has no weight, constant rotate at a slow rate
Through the black hole, purple rainbows in Kuwait
Destination, operation, alternation of the sun
Circuit stars positions seasons that weigh a ton
And mortalic through galaxies I'm burning, it's like
The accomplished, plus the comets keeps turning Beautiful virgin release every burden, I travel when I preheated
The urban, hit the firmament and shock waves are permanent Rays of children gaze and stand amazed, so long I'm gone
To the place Paul apostle was born
Which is in Tarses, small city in Solicia
Then I move South, all the way to Nigeria, golden tigers
Travel all the way to Syria, Mesopatamia
All the way to Syria, Euphrates to the urban child these
Of the high land located near Iran
Fertile crescent, til I reach a section, from each direction
From East to West and, from North to South
All over the equator, Neptune from the womb
Of the creator; Killah Priest dyin' sheep from the Middle East
I'm almost there so prepare I say peace, peace
