

America

Marlon Roudette

Small town got too small,
So you take enough
Drop that beautiful,
Act like you didn't know
Sun a little brighter,
Friends a little higher
Do you lose your acts and change your head?
Life a little larger,
Does every play a little harder?
Anybody tell you that you got it, got it, got it? Did you make it in America?
Find yourself a fortune?
Santa Monica, turning up the volume
Did you make it in America?
Do they all adore you?
But if I'm afar can you hear me cheering for you?
Go, go, go, go on!
Go, go, go, go on! Is a big town big enough,
For just a teenage crush?
Do you still have that part
Does it search and never stop?
Sun a little brighter,
Friends a little higher
Do you lose your acts and change your head?
Life a little larger,
Does every play a little harder?
Anybody tell you that you got it, got it, got it? Did you make it in America?
Find yourself a fortune?
In Santa Monica, turning up the volume
Did you make it in America?
Do they all adore you?
But if I'm afar can you hear me cheering for you?
Go, go, go, go on!
Go, go, go, go on! When I think about you, about you
Nothing couldn't stop you, stop you
Go, go, go, go on!
When I think about you, about you
Nothing couldn't stop you, stop you Did you make it in America?
Find yourself a fortune?
In Santa Monica, turning up the volume

Did you make it in America?
Do they all adore you?
But if I'm afar can you hear me cheering for you?
Go, go, go, go on! When I think about you, about you
Nothing couldn't stop you, stop you
Go, go, go, go on!
When I think about you, about you
Nothing couldn't stop you, stop you
