Just Another Star

Bullet For My Valentine

This is what I can see through my eyes This is the color of your sunrise This is what I can see through your eyes Jump, jump, jump, jump Can you see the light behind these eyes? Jump, jump, jump, jump Can you see the light behind these eyes, eyes? You've betrayed me for the last time You betrayed me for the last time Through the light, I see the truth shine This is how I can see through your eyes Jump, jump, jump, jump Can you see the light behind these eyes? Jump, jump, jump, jump Can you see the light behind these eyes, eyes? You've betrayed me for the last time You're just another star that's burnt out to quickly But I still see you, shining I'm just another guy that's fucked up immensely But you still love me, why? I don't know This is what I see through my eyes Black is the color of your sunrise This is what I can see through my eyes This is the color of your sunshine You're just another star that's burnt out to quickly But I still see you, shining I'm just another guy that's fucked up immensely But you still love me, why? I don't know
