

Chocolate and Red Wine

Emma Forman

You were my older lover and promised me a house in country and a life of luxury and I was flattered so I believed your patter, I believed your lies I believed, I believed, I believed in you
And you brought me chocolate and red wine everytime you played away
Yeah, you brought me chocolate and red wine
And no-one's ever brought me chocolate and red wine since Oh no, no no, no-one's ever brought me chocolate and red wine since Others have played but none were sweet as you were
For every sorry you said you brought a gift with you I never really hated you it's just after a while I got sick of the taste of chocolate and red wine And you brought me chocolate and red wine everytime you played away
Yeah, you brought me chocolate and red wine
Oh no, no no, no-one's ever brought me chocolate and red wine since
