one more try.

Wavorly

The light outside will slowly fade
I'm living life behind the shades
Trapped inside an empty home
The hollow truth of life aloneSo who am I now without you here?
And where do I go for the answer?I know who you are
I know the reason why
You had to run so far
Come back, would you come back?
Oh, oh
And I swear I'd change everything
If I had one more tryI see the ghosts of who we were
They wait for me at every turn
And our memories once colored bright
Are haunted smears of black and white
So who am I now without you here?
And where do I go for the answer?I know who you are
I know the reason why
You had to run so far
Come back, would you come back?
Oh, oh
And I swear I'd change everything
If I had one more try
Oh, ohAnd I'd take back anything
To go back to the start
Before everything fell apart
I'd give everything, everything
To go back to the startI know who you are
I know the reason why
You had to run so far
Come back, would you come back?
Oh, ohAnd I swear I'd change every Oh, oh, if I had one more try
I'd change everything
If I had one more try
Oh, oh
