

The Only Reason

Puddle of Mudd

This is my heart, I give it to you
Fragile the parts, please don't you break it
Here is my soul, it's all I've got
It might not be much but it keeps me together This is my world, my soul, my heart
This is my life so don't tear it apart
I'll give you my world You're the only reason that the world is turning 'round
And you're the only reason that the sun keeps shining down
And you're the only reason I might never wanna die
And you're the only reason that you're keeping me alive Never give up, no matter how hard
Everything gets, I know we're worth it
We always get by through thick and thin
Right from the start you know we can do it Here is my world, my soul, my heart
This is my life so don't tear it apart
I'll give you my world You're the only reason that the world is turning 'round
And you're the only reason that the sun keeps shining down
And you're the only reason I might never wanna die
And you're the only reason that you're keeping me alive Keeping me alive, never wanna die
Only gonna fly, I'll give it to you You're the only reason that the world is turning 'round
And you're the only reason that the sun keeps shining down
And you're the only reason I might never wanna die
And you're the only reason that you're keeping me alive
