For Everything

Planetshakers

For every simple thing you gave me
For the special times we spent
For every smile you painted on my face
For understanding my limitations
For putting up with my frustrations
For always being there every step of the way
For sharing my little moments,
When I?m happy and I?m not
You never lost a single minute to spare
There are times a day could really turn out so bad
And there?s nothing I can do to get it back
You take it away with all your lovin?
You take it away with just one touch
Whatever reason I may have to worry,
You take away from me.

You never failed to say ?I love you.?
When I needed it the most
Hearing these words make me feel so good
You don?t forget to tell me ?goodnight.?
And kiss me when the morning comes
Hold me tight when something is wrong
There are times a day could really turn out so bad
And there?s nothing I can do to get it back
You take it away with all your lovin?
You take it away with just one touch
Whatever reason I may have to worry,
You take away from me.
You take it away with all your lovin?
You take it away with just one touch
Whatever reason I may have to worry,
You take away from me.
