

Electricity

Liz Longley

Oh you and I, we had it from the start an undeniable, indescribable spark a feeling out of our control stronger than we've ever known
under your skin
running through my heart and back again just one touch. one kiss i've never felt anything like this electricityoh it pulls you close, it pushes you away It's a magnetism we can't escape it's there when we fight and it's there when we love baby its just what we're made up of
under your skin
electricitylike a fire we ignite and we can't ignore the light it's a fever its a force we can't deny we can't deny
electricityunder your skin
electricityelectricityoh you and i, we had it from the start
