

Shadows With Tales to Tell

Manticora

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

In my room burns a single flame
And night has come, so nothing looks the same
Shadows on the floor, shadows on the wall
So alive, almost hear them callI start to sleep but my eyes still see
I've take the bait and now my mind has been set free
As the room starts to turn and figure starts to twist
I'm drowning in blackness, in a sea of mistStand very still, be very silent
Shadows with tales to tell
Stand very still, be very silent
Singing of Heaven and HellLying, sleeping, dreaming neon white
Angels and demons coming out of the light
Dancing on the floor, whispering in my ear
Telling me ancient truths of why we are hereStand very still, be very silent
Shadows with tales to tell
Stand very still, be very silent
Singing of Heaven and HellThe shadows are dancing tonight
By the power of one single lightVisions show me places that can never be Terrible and beautiful, not for the eyes to see
Out of the twilight, silence is born
But I awake and now my dream is goneStand very still, be very silent
Darkness with tales to tell
Stand very still, be very silent
Singing of Heaven and HellStand very still, be very silent
The shadows are dancing tonight
Stand very still, be very silent
By the power of one single light
