

Garden of Death

This Ending

Scorching heat, it burns the ground, a flame alit without a sound
Simplest moment, a gaze of fear, the knowledge - all will be gone
Dried out heart, it barely beats, this mortal life burning the coil
Left alone, the sleepest price, clarity, all is unveiled
All path seems to lead astray, leaving only decay
Terrified, a cursed beast to live and die in misery
Born unto this earth alone
Destruction - all will be lost
Cost of lies, a rotten soul
The path you're on feeding demise
Hear the screams, they aren't alone
The torture, will be your own
All path seems to lead astray, leaving only decay
This burden of truth, a path paved with tombstones
This Garden of Death is the cross you must bear
Garden of Death
A blood drenched mystery unveils
A divine madness grips the world
Spreading (like) wildfire, setting this world aflame
We are all sentenced to burn
(Once) full of life, now burned and grey
Choices made, will end your life
Knowing not, the right from wrong
Disaster, will come along
All path seems to lead astray, leaving only decay
This burden of truth, a path paved with tombstones
This Garden of Death is the cross you must bear
Garden of Death
