

Broken Stars (Demo Version)

Silverstein

Shooting daggers at me
Letting it be known, you're not impressed
I never fail at failing all your tests Don't be so proud
'Cause you're still so scared to be alone
And you can't change your mind You won't embrace this
But you'll accept this
You can't let go Broken stars by a single shattered mirror
Seven years of trust
I know you'll never change for anyone
[Incomprehensible] My mind's made up
And I would know I'd do the right thing
Get up and stand tall My mind's made up
Why am I scared
I won't be able to get up when I fall We cast a single shadow for so long now
It's so hard to see the sun at all
But you need light to see the writing on the wall My mind's made up
And I would know I'd do the right thing
Get up and stand tall My mind's made up
Why am I scared
I won't be able to get up when I fall
Into the hole I've made I place myself alone
I'll find the strength within myself
To climb out on my own, own My mind's made up
And I would know I'd do the right thing
Get up and stand tall My mind's made up
Why am I scared
I won't be able to get up when I fall, yeah These broken stars
Should be brought back up in the sky
I can still feel the scars
I won't, I won't let you die We won't, won't fade away
Let's now, right now
Save this lonely place
