

Perfect World

Katie Melua

You're precious
I can't stand seeing you cry
It hurts
watching you get what you don't deserve I tell myself
you don't belong in this rough life
You should have a perfect world
You should have a perfect world
You're too gentle and much too quick to forgive Every slight and though you never been doubt Well who knows if the world will ever deserve you
You should have a perfect world
You should have a perfect world
Who knows
if the world will ever deserve you
You should have a perfect world
