Ever Lovin' Mind

Paul Bogart

It was just the first date
Thought I'd order a steak
Hold the onions, bring the wine
We're gonna have a big time
Conversation took a turn
To wedding bells and giving birth
Before it goes from bad to worse
How about an appetizer first

Talk about loving blind
Have you lost you're ever lovin mind

What are you smoking
You got to be joking
Are you alright to drive
Don't you think that maybe
You're talking kinda crazy
I've only known you for a short time
So take it back across the line
Have you lost you're ever lovin mind

Well a month has come and gone now
I'm hanging out with my pals
They all start to give me lip
And tell me she's got me whipped
Saying it's a little soon
For ? of our honeymoon
But boys you know it's sad but true
One day this will all be you

They say I'm loving blind
And I've lost my every lovin mind

What are you smoking
You got to be joking
Are you alright to drive
Don't you think that maybe
You're talking kinda crazy
You've only known her for a short time

So take it back across the line
Have you lost you're ever lovin mind

What are you smoking
You got to be joking
Are you alright to drive
Don't you think that maybe
You're talking kinda crazy
You've only known her for a short time

So take it back across the line
Have you lost you're ever lovin mind

I said so take it back across the line
Have you lost you're ever lovin mind
