Corrected Visionaries

Corrected Visionaries

Stop and think, and you might note
That life is like a sinking boat
And we're all scrambling, looking for
The very best way back to shoreThe life you live, is what you choose
And some will win, while others lose
But in the end it seems to me
It all comes down to what you seeWe're corrected visionaries
Laptop luminaries
We're looking for life's answers
But they're so hard to find
Corrected visionaries
Each other's adversaries
Or maybe we're just dancers
To the music of our mindsThe more I lose, the more I find
That half my life, I've lived half-blind
The things I thought that I had lost
Were really not the total costThe real thing that I lost each day
Was time that slowly slipped away
And simple pleasures overlooked
While wasted time got overbookedWe're corrected visionaries
Laptop luminaries
We're looking for life's answers
But they're so hard to find
Corrected visionaries
Each other's adversaries
Or maybe we're just dancers
To the music of our mindsWe don't always get it right
We don't always see the light
But we look between the seams
For our visionary dreamsWe're corrected visionaries
Laptop luminaries
We're looking for life's answers
But they're so hard to find
Corrected visionaries
Each other's adversaries
Or maybe we're just dancers
To the music of our minds
