

Safer

Just Jinjer

That someone far from home said to me
I can tell, luck has run dry, what do you see?

The sky above's kind of broken and torn

And every rose plucked from

My hearts twisted with thorns

And just when I think I'm on top

I wonder how I'll get back down

And just then the moment is lost

I stumble and I hit the ground

And I just wanna feel a little safer

Yeah, I'm on my knees

And I don't wanna deal with all this later

The pain I just can't take

And I just wanna feel a little safer

Yeah, I'm on my knees

And I don't wanna deal with all this later

Just drifting on the breeze

That someone in my head said to me, I can tell

Deep in your heart you'll find what you need

Wasted time building castles with sand

And every night I'll watch them fall

And slip through my hands

And just when I think I'm on top

I wonder how I'll get back down

And just then the moment is lost

I stumble and I hit the ground

And I just wanna feel a little safer

Yeah, I'm on my knees

And I don't wanna deal with all this later

The pain I just can't take

And I just wanna feel a little safer

Yeah, I'm on my knees

And I don't wanna deal with all this later

Just drifting on the breeze
