Say You Will

Eva Under Fire

Empty windows
We shine through the scars we
Remember broken glass
We are who we are

Vs1
You know not of whom you speak
In your arrogance all your ignorance
Shows its face
And it claims you
It claims the right to everything
It sets fire to what you've built
Everything you know
Everything you love
Is gone now
And you know this
But you're never coming home

Follow the streetlights down
Follow it down

Chorus
Try and look again
See what could have been
Say you will
Say you will
Try and look again
See what could have been
Say you will
Say you will

Vs2
Now you know what you've done and you tell all your lies then you cover it up then you shove it aside

We ran in the sunlight
Never let a word they said
Echo in our heads
But you know
Yeah you know that they're all for show
Still you lie to my face and you turn me away

But you told me that you wouldn't go
Now it's over again and you play your pretend but you're never coming home

Follow the streetlights down
Follow it down

(Chorus)

For every haunting memory
Is a smile worth remembering
Don't you turn your back on yesterday
Hide from it and it never goes away
