

Never Is Too Late

Joan Armatrading

Alone, you turn your head around on your own
The order to the man one strong drink
Searching for that question to give yourself some reason
To talk to a stranger Don't be afraid, we all need someone who is on our side
Some things must not wait
And a pledge short lived or long is all that's needed
Who'll help? Don't isolate, if you see someone not dancing
It's your fault, never is too late
And a dance short lived or long is all that's needed
Who will help this lonely one?
Who will help this lonely one? Move, direction seems unknown
Walk another hour passed and still alone
Searching for that question
Looking for somebody trying to find that person to love Just be aware we all need someone who is on our side
Some things must not wait
And a pledge short lived or long is all that's needed
Who'll help this lonely one?
Asking for help from someone is not too easy Move, direction seems unknown
Walk another hour passed and still alone
Searching for that question, looking for somebody
Trying to find that person to love, just be aware We all need someone who is on our side
Some things must not wait
And a pledge short lived or long is all that's needed
Who'll help this lonely one? Don't isolate, if you see someone not dancing
It's your fault, never is too late
And a dance short lived or long is all that's needed
Who will help this lonely one?
Who will help this lonely one? Who? Who will help this lonely one?
Who will help this lonely one?
Who will help this lonely one?
