Broken World

Jennyâ€™s got more month than sheâ€™s got money
Works three jobs sheâ€™s barely getting by Bob got word his Moms been told its cancer
So many questions and all of them ask why

Weâ€™re living in a broken world
And a broken world wonâ€™t give you any answers
Everything is upside down
Wrong is right and right is wrong
But not for long no not for long

This broken world is cradled by a Savior
And nothing here can take Him by surprise
Someday all this hurting will be over
And every tears been wiped away and dried
But for now weâ€™re living in a broken world
But not for long No not for long

Mama spends her wakin hours prayin
Her childs done gone left everything behind
Daddyâ€™s getting tired his faith is fadin
You canâ€™t get water from a well thatâ€™s runnin dry

Weâ€™re living in a broken world
And a broken world wonâ€™t give you any answers
Everything is upside down
Wrong is right and right is wrong
But not for long no not for long

This broken world is cradled by a Savior
And nothing here can take Him by surprise
Someday all this hurting will be over
And every tears been wiped away and dried
But for now weâ€™re living in a broken world
But not for long No not for long

This broken world is cradled by a Savior
And nothing here can take Him by surprise

Someday all this hurting will be over
And every tears been wiped away and dried
But for now we're living in a broken world
    But not for long No not for long

But for now we're living in a broken world
    But not for long No not for long
